

ACCOUNTANCY ADVICE

If you're considering upgrading your accounting package or, more likely, looking to install a case management system, it's often a good opportunity to take a general look at your IT solutions. Making sure that you have got the best out of any accounting package which is being introduced is only good housekeeping.

Not too many bells and whistles – only installing the elements which give useful management information or are going to generate efficiencies is the prudent approach. Getting value for money is one of my particular interests at both a personal and business level.

You might want to use the opportunity to have an outside review of your draft plans before making a final decision. Or involve me in the early planning stages, including taking the time to check your long term objectives against your current and planned resources. An independent eye can be a valuable contribution to these important decisions

If this makes sense to you, give me a call on 0131 346 4692 or 0785 290 4646, or email me at leslie@lesliecumming.co.uk for an initial chat.
